Quality Master™

The difference is knowledge

This is to certify that

Ishmael Sandoval

has earned the title of CertainTeed Quality Master™

having successfully passed the CertainTeed Shingle Technology test, thus demonstrating a thorough knowledge of the difference between high-quality and mediocre asphalt shingles.

The Shingle Technology test is a challenging series of questions on current manufacturing technology and related subjects, discussing complex shingle technology and quality. This program provides a comprehensive overview of asphalt shingles, from product components and design features, to price considerations and warranty provisions.
